COVID-19 Walsall College SAFEGUARDING AND CHILD PROTECTION POLICY UPDATE

During the COVID-19 situation Walsall College continues to be passionate about safeguarding our students. We believe that not only do we have a statutory duty to ensure that we safeguard and promote the welfare of children and young people in our care, but also a moral duty.

This annex documents on how we implement the recent guidance from the Department of Education Coronavirus (COVID 19): Safeguarding in Schools, Colleges and other providers, published 27th March 2020. <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/covid-19-safeguarding-in-schools-colleges-and-other-providers>

The college continues to apply Keeping Children Safe in Education 2019 (KCSIE) <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/keeping-children-safe-in-education--2>) during this period and whilst the way the college is operating in response to coronavirus is fundamentally different to face-to-face safeguarding support, there are a number of importance safeguarding principles that remain the same:

- with regard to safeguarding, the best interests of children must always continue to come first;
- if anyone in the college has a safeguarding concern about any student they should continue to act immediately;
- a DSL or deputy should be available;
- it is essential that unsuitable people are not allowed to enter the college workforce and/or gain access to students;
- students should continue to be protected when they are online.

We will take a whole college approach to safeguarding which allow us to satisfy ourselves that any new policies and processes in response to COVID-19 are not weakening our approach to safeguarding or undermining our Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy.

Arrangement for vulnerable learners accessing their education

Vulnerable is identified as: children who have a social worker and those children and young people up to the age of 25 with education, health and care (EHCP) plans. A child may also be deemed to be vulnerable if they have been assessed as being in need or otherwise meet the definition in section 17 of the Children Act 1989.

Appendix 1 – COVID-19 arrangements

We know that the college is a protective factor for our students who receive support from statutory agencies. It is right that we prioritise support for those who will benefit the most. We are balancing this carefully with the urgent need to reduce social contact right across society to support the work to reduce the spread of coronavirus (COVID-19).

Initially our intention was to remain open so that vulnerable learners could attend each day and continue to receive education and pastoral support. This situation has changed, as of 25th March 2020, and all our vulnerable learners are now accessing their education through the variety of college on-line learning platforms as the college is now longer open.

Vulnerable learner information has been collated and created for those students who are identified as a vulnerable student, where there is a safeguarding open referral for students, where there is a significant mental health condition or diagnosis and where there is a degree of risk that requires regular monitoring from the safeguarding team. Looked after Children have also been identified as vulnerable and daily monitoring is undertaken by college staff with carers, students and allocated social workers. There is also regular contact with Virtual Head Teachers in Local Authorities and Kit Rennie, Safeguarding Officer is coordinating this to ensure that all college staff receive the relevant information for LAC (Looked after Child) students. All tutors have access to ePEPs (on-line personal education plans) and can update and complete information when required.

Currently there is daily contact for those students where there is a high degree of risk, twice weekly for those students where there is a medium degree of risk and weekly contact where there is a low degree of risk.

However we know that all our student population will not be seen by college staff on a daily basis and therefore it is essential that every member of staff is observant in their contact with students and that they listen to the voice of the student to identify any emerging concerns regarding safety or mental and emotional health as well as their well-being.

It is important to note that some students will not have been 'at risk' previously but they become more at risk in this new COVID-19 context; the expected rise in students finding themselves homeless has increased already and it is important that we liaise with local partners through the new LA (local authority) measures to ensure that they are supported quickly.

Procedures for managing student safeguarding and well-being concerns

The safeguarding team is coordinating a rota during this time, monitoring the email in-box at safeguardingteam@walsallcollege.ac.uk from 9am until 5.30pm each day. This means that any concerns received, either by college staff, professionals or the students themselves can be actioned immediately by a member of the safeguarding team. Staff are expected to send all student concerns to this email and not contact individual members of the safeguarding team.

In addition to the rota monitoring the in-box the Designated Safeguarding Lead, Andrea Packer is available every day in addition to the rota of safeguarding staff via her email apacker@walsallcollege.ac.uk and by her mobile telephone 07917 628832.

All members of the safeguarding team have a work mobile to contact students directly each day who have been identified as vulnerable or at risk.

All contact and information about students continues to be recorded on the Safeguarding Casework area, and access continues to be only for safeguarding officers and volunteer safeguarding officers.

Potential Absence of Designated Safeguarding Lead/Deputy DSL

The Designated Safeguarding Lead prepared an action plan in the event of different members of the safeguarding team being absent and how the service would be implemented. The Deputy Designated Safeguarding Lead, Luki Poonia is available in the DSL's absence via her email lponia@walsallcollege.ac.uk and by mobile telephone if necessary 07920 084602.

In the event of other members of the team being absent the Safeguarding rota will continue with some officers having to cover more times if necessary, taking on additional safe and well checks to ensure that all vulnerable students are contacted. Risk assessment methods to ascertain risk levels and priorities would be put in place if needed using a prepared method should such situation arise.

Daily contact is made with all members of the safeguarding team so that the Designated Safeguarding Lead is aware of anyone who may be unwell or unable to work. This information is shared with Jayne Holt, Assistant Principal to ensure that Senior Management is made aware at the earliest opportunity.

Staff training and safeguarding induction

All existing college staff will have had safeguarding induction training and on line training for Keeping Children Safe in Education. Any new members of staff who start at this time will continue to receive this training so that they are aware of their responsibilities to ensure that students are safe, or what to do if they are worried about a student.

Safer recruitment/volunteers

It remains essential that people who are unsuitable are not allowed to enter the workforce or gain access to our students. Walsall College will continue to follow the relevant safer recruitment processes if they recruit new staff during this period. This will also include relevant sections in part 3 of Keeping Children Safe in Education. In response to COVID-19, the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) has made changes to its guidance on standard and enhanced DBS ID checking to minimise the need for face-to-face contact.

Where the college utilises volunteers, they will continue to follow the checking and risk assessment process as set out in paragraphs 167 to 172 of Keeping Children Safe in Education.

Regarding members of the college workforce already engaging in regulated activity and who already have the appropriate DBS check, the college does not envisage that any members of the workforce will temporarily move to another college to support students and therefore that a new DBS check should be obtained.

The college will continue to follow its legal duty to refer to the DBS anyone who has harmed or poses a risk of harm to a child or vulnerable adult. Full details can be found at paragraph 163 of Keeping Children Safe in Education.

The college continues to maintain the Single Central Record as outlined in paragraphs 148 to 156 in Keeping Children Safe in Education.

Mental and emotional well-being

Negative experiences and distressing life events, such as the current circumstances, can affect the mental health of students and Walsall College is committed to support students and staff. The college is aware of how this situation may impact upon students where there is poor mental and emotional wellbeing and that this could escalate.

Appendix 1 – COVID-19 arrangements

The college safeguarding section on our website includes recently added information for our students about their mental health and keeping healthy, the site includes links to websites where students can seek support if they need to. Information has also been posted onto Yammer, our college social media platform as well as GOAL for students to access. A weekly staff email includes information for staff about ensuring their emotional well-being at this time and how to adjust to remote working from home.

Online safety in college

It is more important than ever that the college is providing a safe environment for students to access their learning from home. The college has set out clearly the platforms and methods for students to access their learning through a variety of mediums.

Appropriate filtering and monitoring systems continue to be in place to protect our students when they are online accessing work.

The UK Council for Internet Safety provides information to help governing boards and proprietors assure themselves that any new arrangements continue to effectively safeguard children online.

The UK Safer Internet Centre's professional online safety helpline also provides support for the children's workforce with any online safety issues they face.

It is important that all college staff who are interacting with students via the on-line learning platforms continue to look out for signs that a student may be at risk of that their wellbeing is declining, or that something has suddenly changed. Any such concerns will be dealt with via the safeguardingteam@walsallcollege.ac.uk email as detailed above, so that an appropriate response can be made and if necessary appropriate referrals made to the local authority partners.

The Department for Education has provided separate guidance on providing education remotely. It sets out 4 key areas to consider as part of any remote learning strategy. This includes the use of technology. Recently published guidance from the UK Safer Internet Centre on safe remote learning and from the London Grid for Learning on the use of videos and livestreaming could help plan online learning safely.

The college maintains that there is a starting point for online learning and teaching and that this must be the same principles as set out in the college Staff Code of Conduct and the E-communications Policy. These policies include amongst other things acceptable use of technologies, staff/student relationships and communication including the use of social media.

Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy Appendix 1 – COVID-19 arrangements

The Designated Safeguarding Lead continues to liaise with the Head of Human Resources Natalie Priest to ensure that college staff are regularly reminded about safe working practices with students at this time.

The college ensures that the use of any online platforms and systems are in line with privacy and data protection/GDPR requirements.

Students understand the reporting routes in place to raise any concerns when they are working on line, regularly information is sent out to students via email about how they can access learning safely and what to do if they are concerned.

The department encourages colleges to share this support with parents and carers, for example when self and well checks are made a reminder is given about the support available in college via the safeguarding team and the college counsellors. Pastoral Support Officers also speak with students and parents/carers to ensure that they are aware of the support available in college and how to report any concerns.

Peer on Peer Abuse

The college recognises that during the closure a revised process may be required for managing any report of such abuse and supporting victims. Where our college receives a report of peer on peer abuse, we will follow the principles as set out in part 5 of Keeping Children Safe in Education and of those outlined within our Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy. The college will listen and work with the young person, parents/carers and any multiagency partner required to ensure the safety and security of that young person. Concerns and actions will be recorded appropriate referrals made.
