

Children's Voice Strategy

Little Professors Nursery believes that all children within the Nursery have the right to have their voice heard.

It is important that we value the thoughts and feelings of the children that we care for, and take on board their comments to ensure that they are getting an experience that they are happy with whilst they are with us.

Children will be given the opportunity to share their thoughts and feelings on the following things:

- What toys they like to play with and why
- What are their favourite/less favourite resources
- What area they like to play in
- What they are not allowed to do in Nursery.

This information will then be used by staff to further enhance individual and room planning.

Children will also be given the opportunity to create their own play opportunities and make choices about their play. They will be given the opportunity to use their natural curiosity and take part in a range of challenging activities within a safe environment and within appropriate boundaries of behaviour.
